EROSIUM self

The Erosion Shelf is a manifestation of our planet's most intriguing phenomena. An object that, just like Earth, is not alive and yet living at the same time, existing in its own time and space. Logic cannot explain it, but we can feel it through experiencing its beauty. Erosion can create the most unexpected forms that appear even in seemingly dead and desolate places, it reminds us of the inevitable, constant change affecting all matter, organic & inorganic alike.
